

"SPORTS OF THE TIMES"-DISPATCH

'VARSITY ISSUES SPRING SCHEDULE

Baseball Team Will Make an Eight-Day Trip North.

GAMES WITH BIG COLLEGES

Not So Many Home Dates—Will Meet Georgetown in Three Matches.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., January 16.—Alfred T. Brant, of Los Angeles, Cal., manager of the University of Virginia baseball team, to-day issued his schedule of games for the coming season, which opens about the middle of March. Not counting the preliminary contests with the preparatory schools of the State, the schedule calls for twenty-two games, with three of the best dates open. Two of these open dates occur on Monday and Tuesday of Easter week, two of the best days of the season since the Easter holidays are in full swing, with a crowd of "old boys" and visiting girls on hand.

A feature of the schedule is a Northern trip, the first in years. On this trip such teams as Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Georgetown, Villanova and the Army will be met. One date on this trip—May 10th—is yet open. There will be no Southern trip this spring.

The schedule of home games is not as extensive as last year, when a contest was pulled off almost every other day. The Carlisle Indians, who dropped two games to Virginia during Easter week of last year, will not come on a Southern trip this year. In their stead will come Dartmouth and Villanova. Other Northern teams that will be seen on the local grounds for the first time in recent years are Columbia and Cornell.

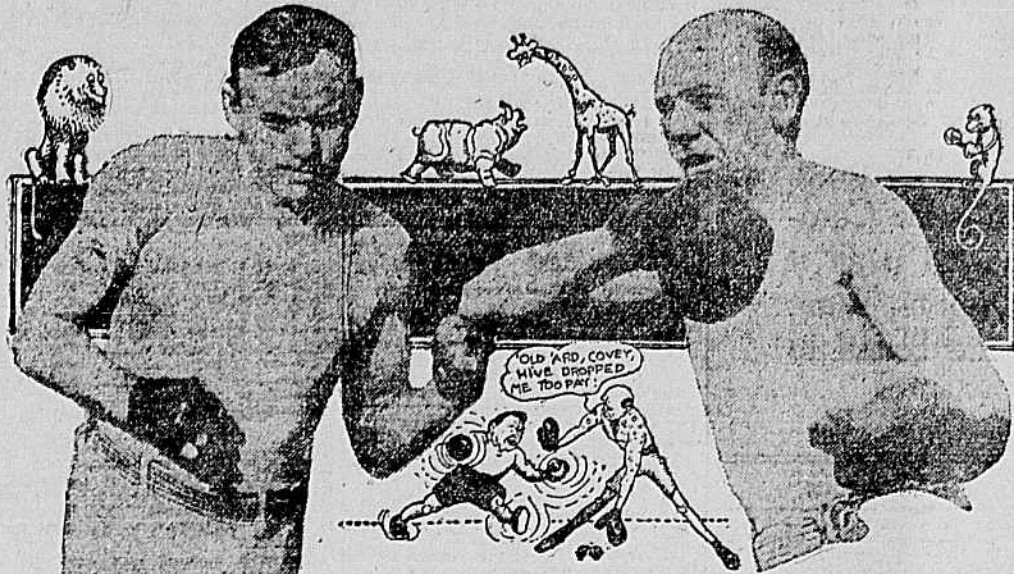

Now that athletic relations have been renewed with Georgetown, two games have been scheduled with the Blue and Gray, the first to be played in Charlottesville on May 4th, and the second in Washington on May 10th. In case of a tie, the deciding game will not doubt be pulled off at the University of Virginia. The last Georgetown-Virginia contest, played in Charlottesville, resulted in a victory for Virginia by the close score of 8 to 4. This year the faculty of the University will allow the Varsity nine to play only eight games away from home. But for this handicap Virginia would go down to Washington April 1st and 2d, to meet Yale, which does not come south of Mason and Dixon's line this spring, and would also journey to Richmond to play Harvard, as the Crimson nine spends nearly a week at the State capital in preliminary practice.

The crack Georgia team, with the star slug artist, "King" Sullivan, who downed Georgetown last spring, but lost two games to Virginia, is again coming North to try conclusions with the Orange and Blue. On April 16th Virginia plays George Washington, in Charlottesville, and six days later meets the strong Davidson nine.

Grand Old Man of the Ring to Test the Prowess of Burns

Fitzsimmons Again Gets the Fight Fever and Agrees to Battle Young Heavyweight in the Quaker City.

NEW YORK, January 16.—Now may the sports gather round and wonder, for though the age of miracles has passed, the makers of miracles have not. Once more is the wonderful Bob Fitzsimmons, known to the world over as the fastest and best of the heavyweights for several years, to step into the roped square, to swing those wonderful arms of his, and, possibly, to land a blow on his opponent that will mean unrefreshing sleep for the count of ten.

Only a month or so ago there were those and few enough there were, who said that the great old fellow would again be seen in the ring. And then arose the snarls and jeers and literary catcalls of the greater mob, who claimed Fitz with the corpses, the mummies and fossils. Even while they were snoring their defeat over his internment, Fitz was manifesting the usual signs of the infectiousness of the ring fever. He was telling how anxious he was to secure a fight with one or any one of the heavyweights near-champ who so carefully kept out of the path trodden by the great Jeffries. Fact, in this case as in thousands of others, is stranger than fiction. For only yesterday did Fitzsimmons himself confirm the report that he was again to be seen in fighting trim. He is to meet Tommy Burns, the clever and youthful fighter of Detroit, who recently made big dents in the individual supremacy of Philadelphia Jack O'Brien in a six-round bout at the Philadelphia Sporting Club on March 16th.

OLD MAN IS STILL SPRY.

Leaving aside for the time being the consideration of the relative abilities of the two men, it would be well worth while to recall the wonderful career of the "Grand Old Man of the Ring." Fitzsimmons, now popularly known as Lanky Bob, in apt nomenclature in view of the former champion's spare frame, has been fighting more or less regularly for the past twenty years. He will be forty-four years old in June of this year, and, despite his years of training and hard ring work, he is nearly as spry as when he pounded his way to a championship.

Fitzsimmons rose to the pinnacle of success in pugilism in a series of fights in which he bested all of those who were great when he was greatest. He held the middleweight, light heavyweight and the heavyweight championships, and defended them against all worthy competitors. Even to-day there are many who regard him as the most popular fighter that was ever in the ring. His downfall came after the defeat by Jim Jeffries. He was then thirty-seven years of age, but his ring days were not yet numbered. It was only a second knockout by Jeffries three years later that really convinced the sporting world that he was no longer entitled to the championship.

SKILL AGAINST STRENGTH.

Fitz, however, only fought right on. He took up theatrical work, but whenever he saw a chance to enter the ring with some chance of profit and victory he came back. And now, despite the fact that he has come to be called the "Grand Old Man of the Ring," he is at it again. Tommy Burns will face him equipped with all the advantages of youth and strength, but Fitzsimmons will oppose to such tactics his marvelous knowledge of boxing skill. This alone may give him the better of the fight, as there is no bit of strategy in the ring with which Fitzsimmons is not familiar.

Lexington Horse News.

LEXINGTON, KY., January 16.—The annual stockholders' meeting of Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association was held in this city to-day, and the following officials were elected to serve for the ensuing year: R. C. Estill, president; Richard C. Stoll and James E. Clay, vice-presidents; Horace W. Wilson, secretary; L. V. Hartness, Dr. John H. Hargard, J. Will Stoll, Colonel John Allen, Louis Desnoignes, directors.

This makes the twelfth year as secretary for Wilson. In accordance with the usual custom of the association, no statement of the year's business was made public, but after the meeting Secretary Wilson said that in spite of the general belief of the public that the association had lost money last year, owing to the weather prevailing during October trials, he was glad to state that there was a balance on the right side of the ledger, and the association had made some money.

MARYLAND MAN TO RACE BRENT

Lang, of Baltimore, Will Give Local Racer a Tussle.

Mr. Charles Lang, winner of the recent six hours roller-skating contest held in Baltimore, which gave him the title of the champion of Maryland, will be the fastest contest ever held in the big rink at Idlewood on Friday night. Lang is here with his trainer, Mr. Priddy, of the Monumental City, and together will go against Brent and Newberry in a mile and a half relay race on Saturday night, making a series of contests that will eclipse anything ever held on the roller rinks in this State.

In the six-hour race in Baltimore Lang won eighty-seven miles in six hours, or at the rate of over fourteen and a half miles an hour, which is exceedingly fast. Taking into consideration the fact that not a stop was made during the six hours of continuous skating, it would only take a second's thought to see that Brent will be up against a proposition in the one-mile contest. There will also be a hot preliminary event on Friday night between Frazer, Ford and several of the fast little youngsters of the local crowd, who will make things lively.

A series of new pictures will be shown before the contests that promise to be among the best ever seen here.

With the fast preliminary and the match race between Brent and Lang on Friday night, and the relay race between Lang and Priddy, of Baltimore, and Brent and Newberry on Saturday night, the roller rink will offer what will without doubt be the most spirited contest of the season.

The home team will be composed of Spilline, Hicks, Rowley, Myers and Williams.

MILLION CHINESE SUFFER FAMINE

Failure of Crops Causes Starvation in All North China.

APPEAL FOR AID IS CABLED

General Conference of Foreign Missionaries Called to Provide Quick Relief.

The American Bible Society of New York has issued a call for a general conference of the secretaries of foreign missions, representing all denominations, in regard to the famine conditions in China. The conference will be held on Friday, January 18th, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, at 1 o'clock.

The following cablegram, received at the office of the American Bible Society in New York yesterday, has been repeated by telegraph to each of the foreign mission boards of this country:

"Shanghai, January 16, 1907. 'Notify all boards. Shanghai Mission Association, 274 members, representing nineteen bodies, urges appeal famine relief through all churches. Million and a quarter starving. Famine already reached to cities in this district. Three million destitute. Many millions affected, many deaths already. Though five months' famine already begun. General relief committee, representing all interests in this part of the East, unite in placing the work of relief entirely in the hands of responsible missionaries. Opportunity of a century to impress China. 'TYKES, President."

At the office of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in this city it was said yesterday that a copy of the cablegram had been received, and that the officials were in full sympathy with the movement, it would not be practicable for any one to get from here, owing to the various engagements of the secretaries. It is probable that as a result of the conference in New York a general call for contributions to the famine-stricken regions of China will be issued.

The famine area extends through the Yangtze Valley and generally through North China, as a result of a complete failure of last season's crops. The situation cannot be materially relieved until the rice crop comes in next summer, and there is, therefore, four or five months of suffering and of starvation facing several millions of people in this area. The United States has already taken some action in this matter, and the National Red Cross Association is moving towards some organized and systematic relief.

SHAFFER BUNCH LOOK LIKE FLAG-WINNERS

New Outfield Signed and Pitching Staff Looks Formidable Also.

Local fans are taking heart for the coming season, since the Shaffer bunch, in such resolute have the men he has gotten together. What with the new men and the best of the old, the Shaffer bunch look like a team that is going to put out a team that will take the "rag" even from Lynchburg. Therefore, the fans feel encouraged and are anticipating with joy the time when Shaffer will descend upon the city with his aggregation and begin marshaling his forces.

Shaffer has strengthened the infield by the addition of two new men; he has secured an outfielder in the person of James J. Brady, of South Ambry, N. J., who has signed a new catcher and pitcher. The pitching staff should be all to the good. The captain thinks the coming season will be the best yet. "Colonel" Still, and Long, Cassidy, Ekstone and Salve will also be here. As to his batting forces, Shaffer says he will put in the field such a set of sluggers as the pitchers of the other teams will find hard to fool with their shots and curves.

Mr. W. B. Brady, owner of the Richmond team, also feels greatly encouraged, so it looks as if there must be really something good in store for the Shaffer bunch. The team will have a pennant-winning team next spring.

Shaffer will be here by the first of next month. He has arranged three games with the Montreal Club, of the Eastern League, for March 20, April 1st and April 2d. The New York Americans will be here on April 5th and 6th.
